SyTech Solutions, Inc. is a leader in information management technology. Located in Elk Grove, California, we provide complete solutions to manage your information, regardless of its format. A single source for all your information management needs, SyTech services include: consulting services, conversion services (SyTech also holds a state MSA for document conversion services), imaging systems, data capture migration, enterprise wide systems, electronic forms, business process outsourcing, and web hosting. Our commitment is to find and match the right technology with your current business processes. In the end, you will have a solution that improves the way you work by managing critical knowledge resources. You will be able to organize unstructured data, guide decision making, disseminate information, maximize time and office space, secure data and eliminate lost information, and automate data collection via the Internet and email solutions. Ultimately, our information management solutions will help your organization improve its business processes.

SyTech has built a solid reputation for outstanding quality and superior customer service. SyTech currently services many large public and private organizations across California. SyTech works extensively with California public agencies at all levels, including various California departments, cities, and counties. In addition to our public agency clients, we have worked extensively with education clients, which include numerous school districts and offices of education. While we approach the problem using consistent standards and methodologies, we always find the right solution at the best possible value. Our customers spend less, realize more immediate technology benefits, and have future flexibility without proprietary limitations. Our number one goal is to create a long-term partnership that produces a complete success.

SyTech's MSA price list primarily consists of costs for various professional services, and components of two proven software systems that are instrumental in the imaging and document management solutions that we typically implement: Kofax Ascent Capture and Alchemy.

Kofax Ascent Capture is the industry leader in capture (scanning) software. The strengths of the software are the integrated image cleanup tools, scanner drivers, and management utilities. Ascent Capture handles all aspects of the scanning process, leaving critical choices out of the hands of potentially untrained scanner operators. Ascent Capture can release to a majority of the document management programs available, keeping import/export tasks out of end-user hands. With enhanced capabilities and expanded import/export features, Ascent Capture can handle the most complex and voluminous document and content systems. This software has the ability to import all incoming content with the same application, regardless of format. It allows you to move paper documents from remote offices to a central workflow system without actually shipping paper. In addition, you will be able to index your content from anywhere that you have access to a web browser. With its simple installation and ease of use, Ascent Capture is the perfect solution for all your capture needs.

Alchemy is a Windows compatible business application that builds document databases on low cost computer storage, and provides a variety of retrieval and output options. Alchemy is ideal for managing large volumes of images, computer report files, MS Office files, AutoCAD and PDF documents. Alchemy includes all the functions necessary for indexing, archival, query, retrieval, viewing, printing, and routing via e-mail. It includes a self-contained Alchemy document database, a built in OCR and search engine, and it supports over 250 files in their native formats. Alchemy also has a programmable interface for integration with other business applications. It provides open or secured access to the data for everyone in your business or throughout your partner network. Users choose how to access the information either via the Internet, LAN/WAN, Intranet, or CD.
